The Event

The IALA World-Wide Academy will run a one month course for potential Level 1 Aids to Navigation managers at its Headquarters in Saint Germain en Laye, France from 16th May to 10th June 2016. Participants who complete the course and its written tests of competency will be awarded an IALA Level 1 Certificate for Aids to Navigation Managers. This principally theoretical course covers the complete syllabus for Level 1 AtoN Managers set out in IALA Model Course E-141/1. Visits and practical exercises are included to consolidate theoretical competencies gained. It is one of a series of AtoN courses. Full details are shown in IALA Recommendation E-141.

Previous sea experience is an advantage but is not a mandatory requirement as general nautical knowledge is included in Module 2. Module 2 will be streamed to permit a common standard of basic nautical knowledge to be acquired before the start of Module 3.

Objective

The course aims to enable participants to gain an internationally recognised Aids to Navigation Certificate as a basic AtoN Manager. The competencies to be gained include:

- Module 1: A satisfactory understanding of International Organisations and a basic understanding of Law of the Sea
- Module 2A: A basic understanding of nautical knowledge
- Module 2B: A basic to satisfactory understanding of position; navigation; timing and meteorology

- Module 3A: A satisfactory understanding of the provision, design and management of Aids to Navigation
- Module 3B: A basic to satisfactory understanding of maintenance; contracts; the marine environment; historic lighthouses and human resource issues
- Module 4: A basic to satisfactory understanding of the technical functions related to both visual and radio Aids to Navigation including e-Navigation and Vessel Traffic Services
- Module 5: A satisfactory understanding of power supplies used for Aids to Navigation

Note that the full syllabus and levels of competence can be found in IALA model course E-141/1 which is available free of charge on the IALA website.

Course Delivery

The course will be delivered by members of the Academy staff; IALA-endorsed experts and lecturers from other Member States and Industrial Members.

Adequate time will be available for revision and tutorials.

Attendance

The course is targeted at those who will fulfil the role of Aids to Navigation managers in either the Competent Authorities of Coastal States or their Aids to Navigation service providers.
